WITH OUR BOYS IN SERVICE

Here is the letter from Cpl. Ray Barton of the medical paratroopers now somewhere in France, which we promised you last week: "We received word today that our regiment has been cited by the President, which means that we will get to wear a special ribbon on the right side of our blouses. This is really classy as we were the only parachute regiment to receive this award. It also carries a seven-day furlough back to England to go any place we want in the Empire. What a break. I'm going to send some things soon from over here. Some of the boys are sending home helmits, bayonets and things like that but I am sending a ocuple of good leather German field sacks so dad and I can take that long-wanted trip to Desolation Valley. I am also sending a small one home to mother together with some German blankets as they are always handy to have at Tahoe. We can't send firearms but who the h - - - wants a gun after the war, anyway."

From Stockton Airfield this week we enjoyed a letter from Pvt. Al Henry of Tahoe expressing thanks for the Sierra Sun which he reads regularly. He says he is not busy at present, although he is instructing in the ground school. He expects to be there three or four months and as often as he can, he dashes up to the lake for a visit. Hopes to get in some deer hunting this fall.

Oswald Schmidt, who is a sergeant overseas, wrote via V-mail this week to say hello to all the old gang through this column.

Floyd Clark of Hirschdale had good news this week from his Alaskan veteran son, Sg. Jay Warren that he has been chosen for officer training in the infantry at Fort Benning, Georgia. Warren recently finished a course of study at a technical school in New York. He has been in the Coast Artillery until he asked for a transfer to the more active branch.

Clark's second son, Lloyd, in the navy in the Pacific, also wrote that he has not been in civilization for so long he has accumulated almost a year's pay on his ship's books.

Earl Edmunds who had much pioneer experience bombing the japs in the Aleutians some months ago and now stationed in Muroc, California, was promoted to the well-deserved and hard-earned rank of captain last month. Earl recently flew over en route to Seattle on a routine flight. He is now an instructor after completing his 50 tough combat missions.

Seaman Sam Costa called his mother by telephone from the coast recently and told her he had been busy and we can well imagine that as he has been on active naval duty for many months.

Calvin Sassarini recently wrote his wife fromn India. There should be a Truckee Day started in that theater with so many of the local lads there. Sassarini, formerly a teacher is with the air force engineers building difficult roads.

A partial family reunion took place in Texas recently when Pfc. George Zorich and his Colorado bride visited his brother in law and sister, Petty Officer and Mrs. N. R. Rockholm at Rockholm's base about 200 miles from where Bud is stationed at Camp Swift.

Eugene Ilardi is enjoying a furlough from the Maritime Service in San Francisco, hoping on his return that he will be a pharmacist's mate second class.

Mrs. Ernest Guidotti, now living in Roseville, received official word this week that her husband was seriously wounded during the heavy fighting in Italy. Mrs. Ghidotti was formerly Bruna Esola.

Lt. Roy Mikkelsen of Auburn and well known to all ski enthusiasts in this district, is reported to be in France taking part in the land action.

Francis Keck, youngest of four brothers in the service, who formerly lived here is stationed in the Hawaiian Islands.

Recent snapshots of EM 1-c Robert Tonini showed him in the midst of pinapple and banana groves and may account for the well-fed look with additional pounds he has acquired in the SeaBees. Bob has since left the isle of the pineapple and bananas and may now be in active action up north of there.

Ruf Gregory has taken his first step up the ladder of miiltary promotion and now sports a Pfc. before his name. He is presently stationed in a Texas camp.

Richard Weeks in the navy was reported at his Auburn home on leave before going into active service. He is the son of Lt. and Mrs. Carl Weeks, former Truckee residents while Lt. Weeks was superintendent of highways here.

A brief V-mail letter from Captain Vern Nelson informs us that he has arrived in Europe with his infantry regiment.

BOWERS PARENTS OF BABY DAUGHTER

Telegrams to local friends and relatives on Sunday, July 30, told of the arrival that morning of daughter Kristina to Sergeant and Mrs. Bobert Bowers at Boise where the papa is stationed with the air corps. The lass weighed 8 pounds at birth. The family is doing well and receiving the congratulations from their friends here.

Representative Clair Engle of Red Bluff, who with his confidential secretary, Jack Mattisen, is making a tour of this congressional district, is vitally interested in the development of Truckee's airport and pledged himself to work for its completion during a visit to Truckee yesterday. Last night Engle spoke briefly before a meeting of the Truckee Lions Club, presenting a word picture of the teeming activities in the House of Representatives in which he represents this district.

"Transportation facilities, including airports adequate to accomodate the private as well as ocmmercial planes, and good highways, appear to me to be the outsanding needs, so far as national assistance can be extended, for communities like Truckee," Engle declared. "I am convinced that we can promote future development of the airport here, and the national post-war program for highways will provide this area with transportation facilities unsurpassed in a recreational district."

Congressman Engle said he would return to Washington early in September unless an emergency demands his attendance there sooner. In the meantime he hopes to visit as much of his district as possible to ascertain the wishes of his constituents for guidance when he returns to the capitol.

Additional evidence that the unnatural drawing down of the waters of Donner Lake will sevre to damage the economic life of this community was offered recently by Dr. A. C. Taft, one of the most widely known and respected authorities on fish conservation in the west. Dr. Taft has stated that in his opinion fluctuations in the lake level as the result of artificial drawing off will be detrimental to fish life and quoted other eminent authority for his opinion. Not that we require more proof of damage which will result from the greed of the power companies, but it is of comfort to know that others aside from local interests are taking issue in the possible spoilage of the lake for anything except a reservoir for Nevada concerns.

Recently we editoralized at some length upon the fact that this area had experienced few automobile accidents on the local highways and gave credit to the care of the drivers and the efficiency of the highway patrol. Maybe we talked too soon for it wasn't a week later before a car, reportedly driven at a high rate of speed left the highway completely out of control and virtually demolished a service station in Truckee. The driver admitted having had a beer or two and admitted driving approximately 50 miles an hour at the time he hit the station. No citation was issued.

We are firmly and honestly convinced that Truckee really has something to offer new businesses. Our natural advantages are too numerous to discuss in detail. We have climate, water power, cheap electric power, fine home sites and hundreds of other advantages. But there are a few things we need to make this an even more stable community and not the least of these is the need for incorporation. More and more our national and state economic structure is leaning toward division among the political subdivisions and cities are in a most advantageous position to share these allocations. Post-war finances will no doubt be made available to political subdivisions set up to administer funds, labor etc. Naturally Truckee will benefit somewhat from county allocations and appropriations, but certainly not to the extent of an organized city unit capable of handling our own business in our own way for the most good to the greatest number.

Fish Expert Says Donner Harmed By Fluctuation

Damage to Fish Life Is Claimed By Expert In Report

Fluctuations in the level of Donner Lake is definitely harmful to the productivity of fish, according to an opinion submitted by A. C. Taft, the chief of the bureau of fish conservation of the Fish and Game Division, to Ralph H. Cowing, deputy attorney general who is making a study of the controversy involving the drawing off of excessive water from the lake by Nevada State utility concerns.

The opinion has been transmitted to The Sierra Sun by State Senator Jerrold L. Seawell of Roseville, who has taken an active interest in the Donner case in an effort to protect the local interests.

Dr. Taft in expressing his opinion on the effect to fish life in the lake, wrote:

"It is very definitely our opinion that fluctuations in the level of Donner Lake as the result of artificial withdrawal would be harmful to the trout now existing in the lake and detrimental to its future productivity. Fish food in lakes are in large part produced in the shallow water areas and the shape of Donner lake basin is such that annual draw downs to the bottom of the existing artificial channel would expose a large percentage of the shallow bottom areas in the lake."

Offers Support

The widely-known conservationist quoted authority from Bulletins of the Institute for Fisheries Research and Transactions of the American Fisheries Society of Washington, D. C. in support of his opinion.

Dr. Taft inclosed a table showing the number of trout planted in the lake in recent years and called attention to the fact that 80,000 Kokanee salmon fingerlings are being put in the lake this year.

"These fish are comparatively new in California," Dr. Taft wrote, "but in lakes in the state of Washington they supply a great deal of fishing and are there known as the Silver Trout.

"We have selected Donner for one of the first waters for these new fish because of its depth, present food production and accessibility to the public for fishing."

Small Talk

By M. F. (POP) Small
United Press Staff Correspondent

SACRAMENTO, Aug 3.— (UP)— The largest printing plant west of the Mississippi River is operated by the State of California.

George H. Moore, state printer since January, 1935, formerly published the Lodi Times, now is charge of his son, Clifton Moore.

The late Friend Richardson was one of the most colorful men to have held the position of state printer and he took his individuality into the "corner office" when later he became Governor.

Richardson was appointed in 1911 by Gov. Hiram W. Johnson, and held the office until 1915.

When he took over the department, he found it badly demoralized. At least that's what he said in his first report to Governor Johnson, and his analysis seems to have been borne out by the personal financial situation of 80 per cent of the personnel.

That proportion, Richardson learned, was in the clutches of a Sacramento money shark who was charging 2 and 3 per cent per month for personal loans. Richardson forthwith installed an employes' credit system, which still functions and was the foundation on which the State Employees Credit Union was built.

Friend Richardson was quite a fellow at the root of things anyhow. Several years ago when Ellis Patterson seemed certain of election os lieutenant governor, and Richardson and a lot of other black Republicans foresaw this catastrophe, Friend delivered himself of his opinion of lieutenant governors generally.

"I don't like 'em," he said "A lieutenant governor is like a buzzard, circling overhead waiting for the chance to pounce the minute the governor dies. All that stands between a lieutenant governor and his chance to move up is another man's heartbeat."

Well, this hasn't anything to do with the state printing office except that when the department is talked about, the name of Friend Richardson is bound to be recalled.

George Moore will probably never be described as colorful, but he's credited with giving efficient, businesslike management to this long established agency.

He and his assistant, Ralph Titus, have 325 persons under them, including 150 women. The state printing office has 70 stars on its service flag. The men woh have gone to war are on miiltary leave, and all of them want to take up their jobs where they left them when the war is over. In Moore's words, "it is considered an honor by a printer to be employed in the state printing office."

The office was created by the legislature of 1875 and began operating on December 1 of that year.

1885 is was authorized to print the textbooks used by all elementary schools in the state, and in 1912 the provision that the schools should use such textbooks was made mandatory. They are today permitted to buy from the outside only supplementary texts.

Textbook production amounts to 40 per cent of the work of the state printing office.

But you couldn't get it to print any kind of book while the legislature is in session. At those periods, the printing office is so busy with elgislative printing aolne that a second shift of printers must be employed.

Every morning a Senate Journal and Assembly Journal covering the previous day's proceedings, and printed copies of every bill and resolution introduced during the day, are ready for the lawmakers and others interested.

All departments of the state government are required to have their printing done by the printing office, and must provide in their budgets for cash payment of the service. Contrary to popular belief, it is not just a bookkeeping transaction, Moore said

The printing office is equipped with 36 presses, 19 Linotypes and a long list of auxiilary machines. Both the offset and letterpress process are used in the pressroom. Paper consumption is numbered in carloads, ink in barrels.

The department occupies its own three-story building, three fourths of a bolck long and a half a block wide. And blocks in Sacramento are laid out on a generous scale.

TRANSFERS ON AUTOS

Don't overlook that certificate of transfer when you buy a used car either from a dealer or from a private individual. This official form must be filled out and signed by both buye rand seller. Another important point for the buyer to remember is the necessity of presenting the certificate to the local war price and rationing board before making application for the gas ration for the car.

FRESH PEAR CEILING

Here is more good news for shoppers buying fresh pears for the family. Price ceilings have been set for the first time for fresh pears to be sold for table use. This means a reduction of about 20 per cent from last year's retail prices.

Look over all the appliances in your home. Check particularly those appliances you use constantly, like the range, vacuum cleaner, refrigerator, washing machine and iron or ironer. Do any of these need repair or conditioning? Durationize your appliances with constant care and timely repair. That also means careful use to avoid abuse. Blasting your radio at full volume, for example, can shorten its life. Use it, but tune it down. Open your refrigerator door as seldom as possible. Keep your fireplace damper closed when heating equipment is in use. It prevents heat waste up the chimney. Your government wants your present appliances to last for the duration. Their services save you time and money.

TAHOE CITY, Aug. 3.— One of the loveliest weddings ever to be held in the outdoor Episcopal Chapel near the avern was solemnized Saturday July 29 at 4:30 p.m. when Miss Jacqueline Weyand became the bride of Maxwell Pierce Milton of the United States navy. Bishop Noel Porter read the marriage rites before a gathering of friends and relatives numbering several hundred.

Balmy summer weather prevailed with cloudelss skies and the chapel resembled a bower of flowers as the wild white marguerites lent their snowy beauty softly against the green pine boughs, a wealth of lilies of the valley, grown in the Schilling gardens at Tahoe, ocvered the altar.

The bride was radiant in a white marquisette gown with long sleeves and bouffant slightly trained skirt, trimmed in rose point lace which also edged the heartshaped neckline. A lace coronet held the white tulle veil and she carried a bridal bouquet of cascading white orchids and stephonotis. The groom as in uniform.

Because the parents of the bride were unable to make the trip to California in time for the nuptials, the bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Raymond Roesle of Piedmont. Her maid of honor was Miss Mildred Roesle, her cousin, and bridesmaids were Miss Nancy Witter of Piedmont and Mrs. Jack Lovejoy, sister of the bridegroom. This trio was charmingly attired in yellow marquisette, the square necklines of their gowns being edged in yellow fuffling. Each carried a bouquet of white marguerites with bands of the same flowers in their hair.

Serving as best man was M. C. Milton, father of the bridegroom, who was pressed into the honor when the officially appointed bets man failed to arrive on time. Ushers were Gerald Bush, Hugh Lowther, Keith Hayes and Richard Scott.

Mrs. B. A. Banker of Oakland who is vacationing at the Tavern, rendered the wedding marches before and after the ceremony on the chapel's beautiful organ.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Weyand of Detroit and is a graduate of the University of Cailfornia at Berkeley where she was affiilated with Kappa Alpha Theta. A large group of her sisters were present at the wedding and attended the reception which folowed at the Milton's lakeside summer home at Sunnyside.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Milton of Piedmont and Tahoe and is in Uncle Sam's air service and his most recent address was Hawthorne, Nevada.

The many friends and neighbors of the Milton family, who have vacatione at Tahoe over a period of many years, extend heartiest congratulations and every good wish for the futuure happiness of the happy young couple.

TAHOE LETTER

To the Service Men

From SWANEE

Tahoe City, Calif.
July 30, 1944

Dear Tahoeites:

It's twilight as I start this Sunday's letter to you all, and what a gorgeous sight the lake, sky and mountains present, with a dull rose tinting the heavens and water, and that line of blue topping the Neveda ranges. Wonder how many of you can remember glorious sunsets, or are they imprinted on your minds and hearts for keeps? It has been a beautiful day, the third on which we have had no thunder storms or showers. We thought the weather was all set for the summer last week, but on Tuesday we had another storm, and on Thursday we had a most unusual hail storm which quickly covered the ground white and remained in many shaded places over night. In some of Tahoe's loveliest gardens great havoc was wrought, especially at the Ehrman estate ,Pine Lodge, where for a period of nearly 20 minutes hail as large as golf balls fell, according to caretakers Mr. and Mrs. Henry Soll, crushing the vegetable garden, felling beds of flowers and stripping leaves and even small branches from the trees all over the place. And we who are telling puzzeld visitors to our fair shores that this is a most unusual summer are not giving them the old melarky for it truly is one of the most unusual in years.

Home again on a long anticipated furolugh is S2-c Edna Wheat, from Norman, Oklahonma. She motored with friends as far as Pasadena where she spent several days visiting with old school chums in that city, Seal Beach and Glendale. On Wednesday last she arrived at the home of her brother and sister in law, Mr. and Mrs. James Wheat in San Bernardino where she spent a day or two before accompanying them to Tahoe for a visit with her folks, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wheat of Tahoe City. Arriving here on Saturday she has lost no time in contacting her local friends and in enjoying daily swims in the lake. She reports back to her post o August 6th and leaves here again for Oklahoma on Thursday morning. Today I went up to see her and took her picture for my collection and she looked pretty nifty in nher white summer uniform. She reports that her work in the flight surgeon's office is most interesting, but not hard. Norman is a college town, with the University of Oklahoma nearby and lively in spite of being "dry". It was only a week after Edna arrived at her new post that she was looking through the records of the cadet flyers when she ran across a familiar name. It wa sthat of Aviation Cadet John Frences Gilmore of Oakalnd. Now Edna and Jack had gone to school together from the 5th grade to high school in Fullerton and here was an nold friend indeed. She tried to contact him by telephone but even though he was on the same base his time was so occupied that she had to resortto writing a letter. When they finally met it was to have one grand reunion and now Edna announces they are engaged to be married. Cadet Gilmore is the son of William Golmore of Oakland and has recently been transferred to Corpus Christi where he is schedlued to finish his flying course in November and receive his commission. All Tahoe joins in wshing them happy days ahead although wedding plans are indefinite.

Up for a visit with his family and friends last week end was Pvt. Al Henry, Jr., who returned to Stockton Air Field Sunday afternoon late. He was looking right in the pink and enjoyed his brief stay.

Deu home the last of this week is Marine Private Marilyn Hinkle of El Centro who phoned her dad Sunday that she would arrive in San Francisoc via air on Wednesday of this week and would spend several days with him before coming to the lake to complete her vacation. Marilyn is one of those who appreciate the new ruling which gives service men and women a gallon of gasoline a day whiel on leave or furlough, making it possible for her to drive up to Tahoe to see her mother and brother and bring her dad along.

Learned last week from Sherwood Prusoo that his little brother Donnie is San Diego is about ready to push off for active duty with the marines after having acquired the rank of Pfc. And his older brother, Corporal Ray Prusso, whom I last heard from in the Hawaiian Islands is now believed to be right in the thick of the battle with the japs. Good luck to both of them!

Also a letter from Mrs. Gerda Kvistberg at Avalon. She wrote that she had arrived back there July 16 and was busy attending teas and luncheons for the isalnd's officials She had not heard from her grandson Lt. Jimmie Easton and was anxious to get his address. Now she is counting the days until fall when she plans another sojour at Tahoe at her home in Tahoe Park.

Another Tahoeite who is at present vacationing at the home of her parents on the hill near the Fleishhacker estate is Helen Sweetland, daughter of the E. J. Sweetlands. Her brother, Jack, also is home for a visit. Heeln compelted her flying course which was to have gained her admission itno the WASPS but the government shut down on this branch of the service before she entered. Now she is reported preparing to leave soon for Hawaii as a member of some welfare branch.

Reported due home within a week or two is Pvt. Pete Vanni who has been stationed in Camp Fannin, Tex Pete did astretch in the hospital with a bum foot but has been up and around for some time now.

Also reported much improved and gaining strength daily is Pvt. Doug Smith at San Pedro. Atlhough still in the hospital, he is able to dress and get abount. He must remain for some time yet to receive treatments.

Had another welcome V-mail letter this week from Pvt. Eric Druhn in New Guinea who grows busier with the passing days. He is getting one swell coat of tan he says and misses the fishing at the lake and spins ina motor boat pretty terribly this summer. In a letter to his wife he sent two postcards on which he sketched a picture of his camp and a native woman. The latter they seldom see, he declared. Not having a camera with him he is making a set of pictures for their scrap book of the war period. Although only done in pencil, the pictures were miniature masterpieces and give a most realistic conception of his encampment He sent aolng best wishes to his friends in the Tahoe Gu Club.

Gave a lft to Sgt. Lester H. Klosterman and Sgt. Robert O. Hirschfelder today. Both are of the school detachment at McClelland Field and were first-time visitors to Tahoe. They were elequent in their praises of the lake and hoped to spend frequent weekends here from now on.

Norman Dewhurst, husband of the former Mary Jane Soll, is now an apprentice seaman at a boot camp in Idaho. A member for several years of the ROTC at the University of Cailfornia at Berkeley, he has applied for a commission. If this comes he will enter the field of radar, but if it does not he will continue in radic havng already passed tests for radic technician. Mary Jane is visiting with her parents, the Henry Solls at Pine Lodge indefinitely.

Must wind up this letter for another week and hope its contents has brought you a wee bit of comfort from home. Tuesday marks the first of August which means summer is just about half over. If the prognostications of the news experts means anything it may not be long before you will be wending your ways back home. The news on all battle fronts of the world is good for the allies tonight with thousands of Germans giving themselves up and hundreds of japs being exterminated by the hour. Turkey is about to jump on the victors' bandwagon and Hitler must be chewing rugs with a vim as each day brings closer his enevitable doom. Keep your chins up and your spirits high and remember no day goes by but what we think of you constantly and pray fro your safe return. God bless you all. Good luck, good cheer and happy landings from the homefolks.

As ever,
SWANEE.

CITIZEN SOLDIERS
Help food fight for freedom

YOU who contribute to victory in this real American way, deserve a salute. Preserving precious foods at home is an essential Citizen Soldier activity true to our traditions of thrift, of cooperation, of constructive fighting against a destructive foe.

America's farmers, and victory gardeners, will produce in 1944 the greatest amount of food in our country's history. None of it can be wasted—all of it will be needed for our fighting men and women, our allies, the liberated countries and ourselves. In this invasion year, less canned fruits and vegetables than ever will be available for civilians.

Help food fight for freedom in your own home by canning all the fresh produce possible from your victory garden, or from your market by wise in-season purchases. And to prevent waste, know your canning methods. Write for free booklets to your State Agricultural College, or, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C.

This is a crankcase

The under side of your engine is enclosed by a thing called a crankcase.

This is a sort of swimming pool where hard-working engine parts splash around in motor oil to keep from getting overheated.

Speaking of oil, remember how doughnuts, French fried potatoes, etc., foul up your deep fat with hard, burned particles of this and that? Well, oil in your crankcase gets fouled up, too.

One minute your oil looks almost good enough to put on waffles. But a few "A" coupons later it has become grimy black from carbon, dust and sludge. And as gritty as a picnic on a windy beach.

Then it's time to have Shell put in fresh, safe Golden Shell motor oil. And while they're about it, have 'em Shellubricate the entire car. This is a protective service to keep your family bus from joining the 5000 worn-out automobiles that limp to junk yards every day.

SOLDIER MAKES HIS OWN JOB

This is the true story of a soldier returning from the first World war. John Spencer Redshaw, returning to Granville, Ill., near where he was born, looked around for an opening. None was to be had. So he made an opening.

One day he was in the post office when he saw a man trying to fill out a money order with an old rusted pen—you know the kind of pens they have in post offices. The man became disgusted with the pen and reached into his pocket and hauled out a fancy-looking pen and filled out the money order. Redshaw stared at the fancy-looking pen and finally he asked the stranger where he got the pen. The man told him, so ex-Soldier Redshaw sent to the company and bought a dozen for three dollars.

He traded those fountain pens to the men he knew for any old thing they wanted to offer. He found he had a natural ability for trading. He ended this swapping spree with a shotgun and $15.

He rented a little hole-in-the-wall place and got some other odds and ends and swapped them. Then he established an astonishing principle; he didn't want money; he just wanted to trade; and that's exactly what he did. Traded. Traded with anybody who came along.

Pretty soon he became known as Trader Redshaw. People outside of the state heard of him.

He prospered, bought an old bank building. One day an opportunity came along to swap for some diamonds. He didn't know any more about diamonds than a dog does about Deuteronomy. But he swapped. And he made money.

He has grown rich by just swapping. Only 15 per cent of his business is money business. His knowledge of human nature is what makes him a success. But one day he got taken in. A man appeared with a cote of nice-looking pigeons and said he wanted to swap 'em. "Trader" Redshaw told him to look around and find what he wanted. The man chose a shotgun and the exchange was made. But the pigeons were homing pigeons—and in a few days "Trader" Redshaw didn't have any pigeons.

Redshaw has owned 16 yachts—and has never seen one of them. He'd trade for them on description and photograph, and then sell 'em. Each time he made money. Now the richest man in the county, he has so many diamonds and jewels in the vault in his store that he has to keep an armed guard day and night. In one day he received letters from 11 different countries. On top of this he's had a wonderful time.

Here's an example of a soldier who returned from the war without money or job, and then made a job for himself a hundred times bigger than he ever expected. Of course it's taken push and steam. So I say give a hand to "Trader" Redshaw who set up in business with a dozen fountain pens.

Neatest party palnk yet laid for Tom Dewey comes in the guise of a warning from one Horace Appel of L.A., who bids thus for Republican votes: "Eevery American mother's right to dream of her son in the Wtie House will be olst in Roosevelt is allowed a fourth term!" To Americans born and bred on the Alger boy tradition, the argument against a presidential dynasty may click.

If a sudden a decisive changeover from salcks and and no mascara to frills, perfume and all the sundry artifices of womankind is shortly noted—the reason no doubt will be that the girls have been reading the papers. They've learned—officially—that the man-shortage is growing more acute, with only 88 men to each 100 women in civilian count!

Celebrating the 60th annivarsary of his entrance into the political scene, Isadore Dockweiler, 76, recalls the pitch-pine torchlight processions that smoked up all early campaigns. The ouly place you can smell anything buring in today's party conclaves, our spy reports, is behind the colsed doors of the caucus rooms where both recent conventions handled plenty of hot stuff in comparative party privacy.

EMERGENCY TRUCK TIRE PANEL IS ESTABLISHED AS SITUATION GETS BAD

Following notification that the quota of alrge truck tires available for 24 northern California counties has been cut 70 per cent, Gilbert McNeil, rationing executive of the Sacramento District office of the OPA, today announced the formation of a central emergency truck tire panel to insure that vital and essential transportation is kept rolling insofar as possibel

According to McNeil, the unexpected demands of the military to carry on offensive operations in all theaters of the war has brought about unprecedented cuts in the quota for tires in 8.25 and larger sizes. In July the Sacramento district issued 1269 tires. The quota for August is 412 tires and the 57 OPA boards in the district already have a current backolg of 2000 eligible appilcations.

Since the new quota is too small .o permit parcelling out among the boards, the emergency panel will screen all appilcations from the 24 counties and allocate the tires on the basis of greatest need and direct importance to the war effort.

During the emergency, an applicant will submit his request to the OPA board regularly serving him. This board will secure the full data and facts required. Eligible applications will be sent with all inforation to the emergency panel which will consider the needs of all trucks in the area.

Have a "Coke"=What's the hurry?

...a way to be carefree in the Caribbean

Have a "Coke", says a thirsty Yank at a West Indies base, and it's like saying, Let's get together for fun. From the Caribbean to the Arctic, Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes,—has become a high-sign of friendliness. Serve Coca-Cola in your home.

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY

Coca-Cola Bottling Co. of Truckee, Calif.

"Coke"=Coca-Cola
It's natural for popular names to acquire friendly abbreviations. That's why you hear Coca-Cola called "Coke".

POLITICAL PARADE - - -

By CLEM WHITAKER

POLITICAL PARADE ..... 4? ....

The issues which turn elections usually are not even mentioned in the party platforms—and in that respect the 1944 presidential race promises to run true to form. ....

What the Democratic platform says few people know, and fewer still will remember. The sole Democratic issue, developed thus far, is that dog-eared masterpiece, "Don't change horses in the middle of a stream."

Often used, and frequently abused, it is none the less persuasive with many voters, although the Democratic National Convention, in unceremoniously dumping Vice President Wallace, left itself open to the charge of violating its own credo—by switching wheel horses!

The Republican platform, likewise, will not play a momentous part in the campaign, despite all the hullabaloo at the time it was being written. Some of the real Republican issues are just starting to take form.

Here are the GOP issues now just developing, that will warrant watching:

1.— BOSSISM. The Democrats led with their chin on this one by nominating Senator Herry Truman, protege of the corrupt Boss Pendegast machine, as their candidate for vice president. Governor Tom Dewey, who first gained public acclaim breaking the grip of the racketeers in New York, certainly is not going to let that challenge go unanswered. Mr. Dewey, an able prosecutor, whether or not you agree with his poiltics, is going to try the biggest case in his career during the next few weeks —and the names of Boss Hague of Jersey City, Boss Kelly of Chicago and Boss Pendegast of Kansas City will share the headlines with New York's own Tammany Hall during the course of that prosecution.

2.—THE PEOPLE'S STAKE IN GOVERNMENT! Watch that issue for today, with the government withholding 20 per cent of the workers' paychecks for taxes, and with Mr. and Mrs. Average Citizen putting all their spare cash into war bonds, the individual is likely to take his partnership with government more seriously—and to be more interested in selecting the men he thinks best fitted to protect his investment. Mr. Dewey can be depended upon to dwell on the terrific spending spree which has characterized the New Deal's 12 years in Washington.

There is another issue, just forming in labor circles, created by the dominant part which the CIO's Political Action Committee is playing in the Roosevelt campaign. Republican strategists are asking AFL whether they can afford to risk the CIO ending up with a first mortgage on the White House. Under the circumstances, don't be too surprised if a large segment of labor splits away from the Roosevelt regime and climbs on the Republican bandwagon, where it wouldn't have to take a second seat to Sidney Hillman's robust political actionists.

SHARP REDUCTION MADE IN CAR QUOTA FOR AUG.

Another sharp reduction in the quota on new automobiels available for rationing was announced today by the Office of Price Administration.

The quota of new cars available for release during August will be 5,000—50 per cent of the quota of 10,000 announced for May and 71.4 per cent of the July quota. In addition to the quota of 5,000 cars a total of 1,000 cars has been set aside as reserves.

The five western states of Cailfornia, Oregon, Washington, Nevada and Arizona will get only 710 cars, with an additional emergecy reserve of 71.

Foxhole Dressings

When a soldier is wounded in the heavy fighting now going on in France, there usually is no time to transport him to a proper dressing station. Even a foxhole can serve as a shelter while the wounds are attended to.
